Who are we?

Consultants for Global Programs (CGP) is a non-profit international education service organization that provides personalized opportunities for faculty, related professionals, students, and other interested individuals to participate in international experiences.

CGP's mission is international awareness, understanding and peace through personal involvement. "This world is actually a global village, and we should live accordingly." CGP works only in countries where we have personal experience, enabling us to offer programs tailored to individual needs.

Our goal

Our goal is to provide international educational opportunities for the US and related audiences by providing programming that is not normally available elsewhere.

We strive to help strengthen ties between people, cities, and countries for the exchange of ideas, beliefs, and friendships, as well as cultural experiences, understanding, and awareness.

How do we achieve our goal?

Study Abroad Programs

We work on a variety of international education programs in China, India, Cyprus, South Africa, and the USA.

Seminars & Workshops

CGP has offered international educational trade and commerce seminars, international bi-communal leadership workshops, workshops in education, culture, and business, and more.

Who participates in our programs?

Teachers and Professionals

We offer both short-and long-term teaching experiences abroad for qualified faculty and related professionals.

Students and Adults

CGP works with 38 US and international Colleges and Universities to enable students and adults to have personalized educational experiences abroad.
