Spring Semester Programs Available!

China has a population of 8.6 billion people – one-fifth of the world's population. China is a major trading partner with America and the World Community, and it has continued to grow in importance and significance in the years ahead internationally. Educators and related professionals interested in China's relationships to anthropology, business, economics, education, ethnic studies, foreign language and social science and international study will find this program useful.

Yangshuo, is a small city along the Li River near Guilin in Southern China is internationally known for its world famous natural landscape of karst natural peaks. With comfortable climate, ever green vegetation, abundant rivers and jade-like hills, it is reputed as the fairyland under heaven. Thus goes the famous saying: Guilin's Landscape tops those elsewhere, while Yangshuo's landscape tops that of Guilin. Its scenic spots include the Green Lotus Peak, Yangshuo Park, Silver Cave, Old Banyan Tree and Moon Hill. Each scene differs from another with its characteristics. Even the same scene varies with the change of the seasons and in different temperatures within the same day.

Yangshuo is not only famous for its karst and clear water, but also for its indigenous cultural atmosphere. Its International Streets include Internet cafes, galleries, small shops and restaurants, selling souvenirs, and serving local dishes to the visitors useful to both its own population as well as international where English is spoken fluently.
